PRESS MEETING
NEARS THE END

Editors Move on to Bowling
Green Today—Voting Contests.

MANY FUNNY RACES.

The Session Was Productive of Good—New Officers Elected.

Grayson Springs, July 27.—The Kentucky Press Association at Wednesday's session adopted the resolution pledging the members to advance the interests of the State fair at Louisville. The round table discussions were a feature of the morning's work. The question of boosting candidates came up and it was proposed that outside of editorial expressions candidates should be required to pay five cents a line for notices in their interest.

A vote of thanks was given Mr. Graham Vreeland and the Executive Committee for their successful work in securing payment for advertisements of the State fair held at Owensboro.

Technical discussion of how to make and sell a good newspaper in the city as well as in the small town, occupied the time and attention of the Association yesterday morning, the last day of the meeting. Interesting papers were read and the discussions which followed were of benefit to the members. Those who have attended press associations say the morning session was the most interesting in several years and will result in more good to the general work of the papers in the State.

Fun was also a part of the last day of the stay at Grayson Springs and the voting contests and the athletic sports furnished much amusement.

Voting Contests.

The voting contests resulted as follows:

For Prettiest Girl—Miss Pearl Falconer, 61 votes; Miss Sadie Gratz, 18; Miss Cornelia Hill, 10; Miss Ray Featherstone, 9.

For Handsomest Matron—Mrs. Harry McCarty, 28 votes; Mrs. K. C. Chambers, 18; Mrs. John Gaines, 16; Mrs. H. H. McNew, 16.

For Handsomest Man—H. P. Somers, 34 votes; Clarence E. Woods, 23; W. Vernon Richardson, 23.

For Skinniest Man—Harry McCarty and Tom C. Underwood received 37 votes each.

The Committee on Revision of Constitution was appointed as follows: Lew B. Brown, J. Howard Peak, Clarence E. Woods. Resolutions were adopted thanking the Courier-Journal and Times for the buffet luncheon at the Old Inn.

The ladies' foot race was won in fast time by Miss Pearl Falconer, of Danville, with Mrs. Megger, of Paris, a close second. Mrs. Clara Mercke, of this place, finished first in the uphill race for women and Mrs. Megger was again second. The prize in the first race was a handsome color painting and in the second a set of shirt-waist pins.

The other contests for the men resulted as follows:

100 yard dash—Harry Tharpe, of Owensboro, first.

Up-hill dash—J. Ross Williamson, of Lexington, first; Clarence Woods, of Richmond, second.

Apple-eating contest—H. C. Bowmer, of Louisville.

Fat men's race—Walter Gilligan, Louisville, first; N. W. Barrall, Shepherdsville, second.

Lean men's race—W. C. Gullion, New Castle.

The association will leave here today after a roundtable, conducted by Judge E. Barry. The party will go to Bowling Green, making a short stop at Elizabethtown, where they will be entertained by the citizens.

The new officers are D. B. Wallace, Warrenton, President; Lew B. Brown, Harrodsburg, Vice President, and W. V. Richardson, Danville, Secretary.

WEDDING A SURPRISE.

Elbridge C. Cayce Woos and Wins Illinois Lady.

Several of the friends of Mr. Elbridge Cayce were at the I. C. depot when the train came in Thursday evening. They were surprised to see Mr. Cayce and a strange lady step off the car, and speculation was ripe as to where the lady came from and who she could be. It developed that the lady was Mr. Cayce's wife. Mr. Cayce was married Wednesday to Miss Dikie Pool, at the Palmer House in Paducah. The bride is a daughter of Dr. R. M. Pool, of Herin, Ill. The wedding is in some measure a surprise to Mr. Cayce's friends, but as he has of late been making occasional trips over the road, it was believed that there was some unusual attraction somewhere for him. Everybody wishes for him and his bride a long and happy life. They are now at Mr. Cayce's home, five miles from the city on the Palmyra road.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Callard, G. H. Champlin, J. W. Stowe and Lucian H. Davis. The Louisville meeting is expected to be the most important Grand Lodge meeting held in years.

MAYFIELD HAS A CANDIDATE FOR LYNCHING

A Telephone Operator Criminally Assaulted By a Negro.

CRIMINAL CONFESSED.

Spirited Away to Escape a Mob That Was Hot On His Heels.

Mayfield, Ky., July 27.—Allen Mathis, the negro who criminally assaulted Miss Ethel McLane Wednesday night, was spirited away from here about 4 o'clock this afternoon, while a large crowd was surrounding the jail, and taken, it is presumed, to Paducah for safe keeping. All arrangements had been made for a lynching tonight.

Miss McLane came to the jail and identified the negro prisoner as her assailant. Those in charge of the negro when he was carried away in a surrey were County Attorney Joe Weeks and Deputy Sheriffs Boyd Sullivan, John Galloway and Oscar Elmore. Public sentiment is very bitter and last night a party left in pursuit of the officers in the hope of getting their hands on Mathis.

Excitement is at a higher pitch than probably was ever known. The people from the country have been here in throngs from all parts of the county. When arrested this afternoon the negro confessed his guilt and this became known to the people of the city. Miss McLane was assaulted last night about dark about one-half mile southwest of the city on the railroad. She is an operator in the Cumberland telephone office, and was enroute home. The negro slipped up behind her near an embankment and demanded her money.

Her pocketbook, which she carried, was searched by the negro and no money found. He then threw his hands over her mouth, commanding that if she said a word he would kill her. A large knife was carried by the negro, and he repeatedly told her that if she gave the alarm her throat would be cut. The negro dragged the girl down the embankment, and she struggled for fifteen minutes to get free from him. He left her in an exhausted condition, almost unconscious, and fled.

Bouquets For Two.

The Courier-Journal has these pleasant references to Hopkinsville representatives at the Grayson meeting:

T. C. Underwood, of the Kentucky New Era, of Hopkinsville, has a great nose for news, to say nothing of other things. He had a package in his possession for about 5 minutes the other day that added more to his popularity than a five years' advance payment of dues could ever have accomplished. He is a wonder in more ways than two. As an after-dinner entertainer, Tom hasn't a superior in the association.

The programmes always call the editor of the Hopkinsville Kentuckian, Charles Meacham. The craft call him Charley, or just Meacham. That's because he is one of the young fellows still. Those who heard him at Dr. Powell's banquet in Louisville some years ago will readily realize that as a speaker at the press banquet this week he was delightful.

Administrators Appointed.

LeRoy Cayce has been appointed administrator of the estate of his father, Isaac H. Cayce, deceased, with Luther Wolfe as surety. The appraisers are: E. C. Radford, C. E. Sively and Luther Wolfe.

Mrs. A. D. Jarman was named administrator of the estate of her husband, C. W. Jarman, dec'd. She accepted the trust and gave as bondsmen Jas. R. King and H. C. Barber. Jas. R. King was appointed appraiser.

WEALTHY CITIZEN

Of Trigg Dies After a Brief Illness.

The death of Mr. Alfred Thomas, at his home, near Gracey, Thursday morning, removes from Trigg county, one of her wealthiest farmers and most influential citizens. Death was due to flux, which developed about a week before. Mr. Thomas was seventy-one years old and was survived by three children, Tom Thomas, Mrs. Thomas Vinson and Mrs. Jas. Golladay, all of Trigg county. He was a large land owner, his real estate aggregating nearly fifteen hundred acres.

Mr. Thomas had been a member of the Baptist church for a number of years and was a man held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. Funeral services were held at his late residence yesterday afternoon and the interment took place in the family burying ground.

The death of Mr. Thomas was the third to occur in the immediate family within ten days, his daughter, Mrs. David Shoulders, having died last week, and the latter's little son a few days later.

BETHEL ASSOCIATION

Will Meet Here in Annual Session August 7 and 8.

The annual session of Bethel Baptist Association will be held in this city for two days, August 7 and 8. There are about 50 churches in the association and the delegates usually number about 100, but the meetings always attract many visitors. The sessions will be in the Baptist church and entertainment will be provided for all delegates. Mr. H. H. Abernathy is chairman of the committee having this in charge. The church has undergone a general overhauling in anticipation of the meeting. The carpets have been taken up and cleaned, the organ re-tuned, the glass plates neatly cropped and the flower beds are at their prettiest. The ladies' societies of the association will meet at the Methodist church. The Baptist church has not yet selected its delegates. This will be done at the business meeting next Wednesday night, when other important business matters will come up, including the election of a church clerk.

$2,070.80.

Minerva Summers Made
Happy by a Check.

Jay Gould died worth two hundred millions and Russell Sage handed in his checks worth about half that amount. Neither one of them with more dollars than they could count were as happy as is old "Aunt Minerva Summers" today with $2,070.80 to her credit in one of our banks. And she is to get $12 a month as long as she lives, too.

"Aunt Minerva belongs to the 'aristocracy' now, but only a few days ago, though 79 years old, she had to earn something to sustain life at the wash tub, making from 50 cents to 75 cents a week. This windfall came to her through the efforts of Thos. E. Lawson, pension attorney, who had been working on the case since last fall, the first application having been pigeon-holed fifteen years ago. Her only son was killed during the war. Though the relief came late in life it is none the less appreciated. She will have lots of friends now and can find relatives with but little trouble.

COUNCIL MEETING

To Fill the Vacancy in Tax
Collector's Office.

A special meeting of the City Council was held last night to elect a city tax collector to succeed Gus Tandy, deceased. There were many applicants, among them Messrs. Henry Hurt, M. F. Crenshaw, H. G. Moore, W. E. Shanklin, L. H. McKee, R. D. Reeder, L. H. Armstrong and J. A. Payne. The Kentuckian went to press in advance of the meeting and cannot report the result.

The Bell Telephone Company has won a complete victory after a long contest with the doctors of the town of Pittston, Pa., who were fighting against paying business rates for their telephones. They had been paying the residential rate. The medical men ordered their telephones out, and the drug stores came to the doctors by messenger. Then the telephone management hit upon a scheme. When a call came for a doctor it was sent to a physician in near by towns. The Pittston doctors saw their business falling off and yielded.

Seeing nothing ahead but a life of drudgery and desiring one good time before they died, Warren Greenstreet and Miss Maggie Downhour, of Kokomo, Ind., who were engaged to be married, made a proposition to sell their bodies to physicians, spend the money obtained in a grand final celebration and then commit suicide. They were arrested.

"I don't think it has ever been necessary to do so before," he said. ## FALL FESTIVAL

In Cincinnati to Last Four Weeks.

Cincinnati, O., July 25.—Hundreds of men and women have been set to work making ready for the city's Fall Festival, which opens Aug. 28 and lasts four weeks. Already the city is full of flowing banners advertising the fair, and interurban cars and trains are carrying matter through their territory.

This will be the fifth festival in the history of the city. None of the others were continued for more than two weeks. This show will cost four times the money of any previous exhibition and will represent not only this city, but the entire Middle West and Southeastern states in the matter of exhibits. Some of the features now in course of construction are unique beyond description.

There will be an exposition feature bigger than was ever seen in this section before. The United States Government takes part in this, providing for a tremendous exhibit.

There will be a house of death, or as it will be called, "Chateau le Mort." This is a refreshment place, and the inside will resemble the catacombs, with its grinning skulls, shrouded waiters, coffin-shaped tables with skulls under the glass tops, etc. Any guest, who so desires, can be turned into a full sized skeleton and back again in full view of their friends.

There is to be a Hippodrome like the famous place of amusement in New York. Thousands of dollars will be spent for acts such as have never been seen outside of London, Paris and New York. Huge elephant and equestrian acts and bareback performances will be seen here. There will also be a mammoth stand, open air, free attractions, big musical spectacle imported from London, carrying over 250 people, a back woods inn, a refreshment place, a temple of art with some of the most wonderful pictures on record, and numerous other features.

STATE S. S. CONVENTION

Ashland—Catlettsburg, Ky.,
August 21, 22, 23.

The Forty-fifth Annual Convention of the Kentucky Sunday School Association meets at Clyffside park, midway between Ashland and Catlettsburg on the above dates.

A strong and attractive program has been arranged. Besides the best talent of our own State, Mr. W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, Dr. H. M. Hamill, of Nashville, Rev. Wm. Megginson, of Richmond, and Dr. C. Humble, of Parkersburg, W. Va., will be with us. Every Sunday School of the State is entitled to representation, and a school can make no wiser use of its funds than to send a delegate to the State convention. He will receive and bring back to his school an inspiration that can come from no other source. If the school is not able to pay the way of its delegate, then it should select some one who is able and willing to pay his own way. By all means the school should be represented. All official delegates will be entertained free, on the payment of one dollar to the local committee on arrangement. Those desiring entertainment should secure credentials from the county president or the county secretary, and send their names at once to W. J. Craig, Ashland, Ky.

The railroads have granted reduced rates. This will, therefore, be a comparatively inexpensive trip, and at the same time one of the most delightful and profitable any Sunday School worker can take. Delegates desiring entertainment should send their name to W. J. Craig, Ashland, before August 15th. For program and full particulars address A. E. Fox, General Secretary, Louisville Trust Building, Louisville, Ky.

The Old Reliable Jewelry House

of Hopkinsville is, after all, the best place to get anything in the jewelry line. There's a record behind us, a record of over thirty years; a clean record of satisfied customers, a record of honest dealing, for honest quality, honest prices. It's a record any Jeweler might feel proud of. And when we sell an article we have in mind that we have a record to maintain, and no slipshod methods, no careless workmanship, no lack of quality, is ever allowed to mar the record of the past. But to improve, if possible, this record, is ever our aim, and goods are sold for as low a price as it is possible to sell reliable goods.

It will pay you in the end to deal with the Old Reliable Jeweler.

Dear Sir:—
It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of statement of optional settlement on 20-Payment Life Policy, No. 223,593, for $1,500.00, issued at age 35, with premium of $32.50, taken out with you Apr. 29, '96. After having been insured for 20 years, I am offered a paid up policy for $1,500 and a cash dividend of $406.88, or the total value may be withdrawn in cash—$1,215.88, (which is more than I have paid in in the 20 years) or a fully paid up policy payable at my death for $2,219.00.
The cash settlement of $1,215.88 is equal to Term Insurance at $12.87 per $1,000 and an investment of the balance of premiums with 5 1/2 per cent. compound interest for twenty years. This showing is certainly a creditable one for the New York Life, and I will be pleased to give you my application for $1,000 on the Ordinary Life plan.

FOR THE CRUSADER.

Mrs. Tanner Secures a Long List of Subscribers.

Mrs. Adele Gaines Tanner, a sister of Col. Noel Gaines, editor of the Frankfort Crusader, was in the city yesterday and in a few hours secured a large list of subscribers for her brother's new magazine. She stated she had secured 3,200 new subscribers this side of Louisville. Mrs. Tanner is eminently adapted for the business in which she is succeeding so well. She presents the merits of the Crusader so attractively and so convincingly that she seldom fails to secure a subscriber. She left last night for Bowling Green, after appointing Mrs. W. H. Elgin as local agent for the magazine.

SAILING THE OCEAN BLUE

Christian County Girl Writes of Her Impression of the Sea.

NOT WHAT EXPECTED.

Newsy Letter From Miss Sue Rives, of Casky, Off the Coast of Ireland.

Miss Sue Rives, of this county, daughter of Mr. R. F. Rives, is touring Europe with a party headed by Prof. H. K. Taylor. We are permitted to publish the following letter written off the coast of Ireland: S. S. KENSINGTON, July 9, 1906.

My Dear Home Folks:—This will be a very different letter from the one I expected I would have to write to you. I've waited till the end of the voyage to be sure about it, but this is Monday and we land tomorrow, and not one minute of the time have I felt any evil effects from the trip. For I have been perfectly well all the time. They promise us a sight of the verdant green of St. Patrick's Isle this evening about seven. I suspect a mighty shout will go up from the passengers, but as far as I am personally concerned I am sorry that we are to land. I am anxious to hear from home and I realize that we have such a short time for travel. If it were not for that I would be very sorry that the voyage is over. The weather for the most part has been fine. Two days of dense fog, in which we were privileged to hear the famous fog horn blow, we wished for a cessation of it before we got it. Otherwise the weather has been fine; sunshine most all the time, almost no rain or wind and the most bracing air to breathe—we can't help but enjoy it. The sailors say it is the best trip of the year, and I can well believe it since we've had nothing to mar the pleasure or progress of the trip. My expectations had a great fall when I came to the ocean proper. Only a few of the noted "white caps" have been seen, and I find very little difference between the ocean's waves and the ripples of the river. It has been perfectly calm and quiet and not a bit like the ocean I had always pictured in my mind. We have seen schools of mackerel off the coast of Newfoundland; and of porpoise—some thought them flying fish, as they would leap continually out of the water, but the sailors called them porpoise. They were beautiful in the water—a long strip of dark red and light green. Some few sharks have been seen, but no whale has appeared. Another thing we have seen a good deal of is the seaweed. It looks very similar to a crab, minus its legs. There is so much of it that the water at times is a dark brown.

A little bit about the ship itself. We have been carried from the "bridge," where the captain stays, to the very bottom of the vessel. It takes twenty boilers to give the power to the eight engines which run us. These engines are connected with fans on the outside of the ship by what is called a shaft. There are two of them, one on each side of the ship, great revolving pipes they look like, running from the engines which are in the center to the back end of the vessel. These four, windmill wheels in appearance, are what push us through the water. They have their own electric light plant, printing press, and ice factory, but do not filter the water, as that is brought from Wales—nearly always enough for the return trip. There are three decks to the vessel; the lower deck for steerage passengers, which runs the length of the ship, our deck where the first-class passengers stay, and the deck above us for the officers. Then, besides, there is the bridge, as it is called, where the steering of the ship is done. The quartermaster has his compass just in front of him and with his eye on it all the time he turns the little wheel which guides us through the water.

We had a very interesting visit to the captain. He let us look through some of the telescopes, showed us the ocean chart, where all the lines run and finally converge at Liverpool or some other harbor. The most interesting instrument I found up there is what is called the sextant, an apparatus for measuring the angle of the sun. So you see they keep up to time every minute, for we lose a half an hour out of every twenty-four, and they do not yet make clocks that drop off half hours in a second. They also use this knowledge of the sun's distance, or rather the rate of travel to keep the compass exactly right, for the steel around it attracts, of course, and sometimes puts it off a little.

We have lived on French dishes already till I'm afraid we would not recognize any of our good Southern dishes. My! it makes me hungry when I think of good hot biscuit and country ham. At first we found it difficult to steal or buy drinking water. Now the stewards have grown accustomed to our eternal cry of "water, please!" So they bring it to us finally, but they show very clearly that we are curiosities. Strange people, we are, who drink water all the time. If they don't serve water of course there's no need for crushed ice, and we were very much amused in Montreal when we called for it to put in our phosphate one day at the soda fountain. The boy brought us great lumps of ice, the size we use at dinner. Thinking he didn't understand we told him again we wanted crushed ice. He, with a puzzled and downcast countenance, explained they had no other kind of ice in Montreal. I doubt whether he sees through it yet or not. Will write again later if possible.

Heard Mr. Joseph's Lecture on Mohammed.

Less than a dozen people were at the city court room to hear Mr. Isya Joseph lecture on Mohammed and Mohammedism Thursday night. His lecture was full of information and our people are losers by putting in their time elsewhere. Mr. Joseph is an educated Assyrian, and although a graduate of Columbia University and Union Theological Seminary, he intends to pursue his studies still farther, and during vacation lectures to obtain money to pay expenses. He has the very best of recommendations. He was billed to lecture again last night.

SEVEN BIG MEN

From Trigg County Happen to Meet Here.

Last Thursday while Mr. J. P. Thompson, formerly of Trigg county, was sitting at the foot of the stairway leading to his office in the post office block, an old acquaintance from Trigg, stopped to shake hands and chat a few minutes with him. Pretty soon another man from the same county stopped, and then another and another until the crowd had increased to seven. It was a coincidence and will never occur again—they just happened to meet there. All of the seven lived or are now living in Trigg county. Another strange thing about the meeting was the fact that everyone of the men is over six feet in height, the shortest of them measuring six feet one inch. The youngest of them is Mr. M. F. Crenshaw, aged 49, and the oldest is Mr. Allison W. Thomas, who is supposed to be nearly 90 years of age. The seven gentlemen who met without appointment and happened to be in the city on the same day are: J. P. Thompson, Allison W. Thomas, Robert Thompson, John Howard, John Crick, M. F. Crenshaw and Luther Haydon.

Buys a Farm.

Still Dull.

The "trouble department" at police headquarters is still almost at a standstill. There have been but four arrests since the 19th. Lieut. Morris said the other night that he is getting tired of doing nothing and wants something to happen. The four arrests were for the following offenses: Insulting language 1, drunk 1, disorderly conduct 1, profane language 1.

Joined Medical Society.

The monthly meeting of the Christian County Medical Society held its last meeting at Cerulean this week. The meeting was well attended and made profitable to the members by the reading of interesting papers and discussion of different subjects. One of the many pleasant features was the admission of Dr. W. H. Ketchum, of this city, into the society. Dr. Ketchum belongs to the homeopathic school and is the first "homeopath" to be admitted into the ranks of the old school in this section of Kentucky, if not of the entire State. We understand that two other physicians of Dr. Ketchum's school made application for membership at the last meeting of the county society. It should be understood that this departure of the old school does not by any means mean assimilation of ideas of treatment, except in a limited way, if at all, but is done as a means of protection and from a social standpoint. In other States, we learn, it is quite common for members of the two schools to fraternize where the new school may not have a sufficient number to organize themselves into a society.

The Chicago Record-Herald is keeping a record of the deaths from drowning since the bathing season opened. The total has reached 250, 50 of them in Chicago. According to the same paper there have been 112 deaths from Fourth of July accidents and injuries this year.

They returned here Wednesday night and on yesterday went to their home, not far from Pilot Rock.
